Another Fire Among the Oils

NEW YORK, August 20.—An explosion occurred at Pittsburgh this morning in a still of the Commercial Oil Refinery scattering oil in all directions over the heavy brick wall into the refinery of Wormser Meyers & Co. It set fire to the cooper and paint shops and spread from these to the bleaching house and tanks which also took fire. [illegible] men at work in the cooper shop escaped but one named Jacob Miller perished in the flames. The cooper and paint shops and two tanks of the Extra-Lite Oil Works and 1,000 barrel tank of the Commercial Works were consumed. The loss of the Extra-lite Works is estimated at $11,000 and that of the Commercial at between $[illegible],000 and $[illegible],000.

Bloody Affair

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., August 20.—The Board of Supervisors met in Perryville on Monday. The former Clerk of the county, backed by four or five friends, entered the town. They had sworn to and intended to kill J. M. Matthews, Attorney of the Court, on account of an article published in the Gazette reflecting upon them. They attacked Matthews in the Court House, breaking up Court. Matthews retreated to a store and fired on his pursuers without effect. A brisk fire was then opened on both sides during which Matthews was wounded, though he managed to escape to the woods. That evening the friends of Matthews, to the number of 150, entered the town, killing a man named Treemanes. Matthews had warrants issued for the arrest of Hambright, the chief and all others engaged in the affair.

Our Regular Murder.

AUGUSTA, Ga., August 20.—A fatal affray occurred to-day at Swainsborough, Emanuel county, between Jas. C. King and Bruce McLeod, which resulted in the death of both parties. King advised his sister-in-law not to receive McLeod's attentions. She acted accordingly, writing him a note to that effect. This angered McLeod, who while under the influence of liquor, insulted King, which the latter resented by slapping his enemy's face, whereupon McLeod fired four times, fatally wounding King, who returned the fire, inflicting a wound from which McLeod died. Both parties were respectably connected. King was a lawyer and McLeod a clerk.

Details of the Lynching of Kellar.

CHICAGO, August 21.—A special to the Tribune, from Kansas City, Mo., gives the following particulars of the lynching of Kellar, who murdered his wife, Mrs. Boyd, and two children last Sunday night near Twin Springs, Kansas. Yesterday additional evidence was found implicating Kellar. A shirt covered with blood was identified as his by a peculiar button which he usually wore. The rage of the people upon this discovery was unbounded, and soon it was rumored that Kellar would be taken from jail. Before the mob assembled, he was taken to the woods to save his life. Three hundred men demanded his whereabouts, and threats were made which the Sheriff was unable to resist. He revealed the whereabouts of Kellar. He was captured by the lynchers eight miles east of La Cygnes, Kansas, and taken back to that place. Kellar begged for life, but did not confess his guilt. He asked leave to make his will, which was granted. The authorities were powerless to save him. Kellar was given an opportunity to make remarks, which he declined. He denied all knowledge of the murder, and was apparently unaffected by the hasty preparations going on. He was offered chances of confession to a minister but he declined them. His executioners pinioned him, stood him on top of a wagon, a rope was suspended from the limb of a tree already selected, and Kellar was blindfolded. Boyd placed a rope over his neck, the word was given, the wagon was drawn from under him and John Kellar was dead. The time of the execution was 5 o'clock P. M.

Another Railroad Consolidation

MILWAUKEE, August 20.—The officers of the Vurna Peru and Mendota and the Illinois Milwaukee and Northern Illinois Railroad Companies were in session yesterday. They agreed upon a consolidation of all these roads, forming an air line from Milwaukee to St. Louis. They take the old graded road bed formerly called the Milwaukee and Beloit Railroad, but long since defunct, leaving the [illegible] to pay the bonds issued in aid of the enterprise, amounting to nearly half a million. The tax payers congratulate themselves on having something to show for this swindle at last.

WASHINGTON CITY.

A New Question Under the Treaty of Washington.

NEW YORK, August 20.—A Washington correspondent says a new question has arisen under the Treaty of Washington. It appears that at the time the treaty was signed British Columbia was not part of the Dominion of Canada. It is consequently doubtful whether that province is entitled to the benefit of the treaty as regards the free importation of fish and fish oil. The attention of the Treasury Department has been called to the question, a matter of importance to be known by customs officials in Washington Territory. There appears to be no section of the treaty under which British Columbia may claim these benefits. It seems probable that the question cannot be determined without diplomatic intervention.

WASHINGTON, August 20.—Information has been received here that the Mikado will soon open Simonoseki, in Japan, to the commerce of all nations.

PRESCOTT, August 16.—The citizens of this city and vicinity were considerably excited on Tuesday last by the arrival of parties from the Verde, who stated that 600 Tonto Apaches left the reservation Sunday night and had gone to the mountains.

Gen. Crook left headquarters for Verde instanter. On Thursday we learn from a reliable source that there is no danger apprehended. The big chief of the Tontos did not go out with the tribe. The reason why the Tontos left was that they heard through enemies that Crosby, interpreter at Camp Apache, was coming to Verde with a large force of Coyoteros and San Carlos Apaches to clean out the Tontos. They are all returning to their reservation. Their chief, Delche, says he has had fighting enough. He wants peace and will stay on the reservation.

The Democratic County Convention denounces the illegal nominations for the Legislature.

The Supervisor of School Directors, by authority of the Municipal Convention, calls for a mass meeting Saturday night to ratify all nominations legally made.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 21.—The meeting at Platt's Hall to-night to ratify the regular Republican nominations is largely attended. Walter Vandyke, President, introduced J. B. Felton, who, after a few preliminary remarks, proceeded to review Gov. Booth's recent speech at the same place. At the mention of the Governor's name over half the audience broke into a round of cheers, which continued several seconds. Then large numbers arose to their feet and cheered Booth loud and long. This unexpected demonstration disconcerted the speaker for a moment, but he said he did not intend to speak disrespectfully of His Excellency, but after that, every time he pronounced Booth's name there were cheers from all parts of the Hall. Finally Felton conferred with Vandyke, and after one or two more interruptions of the same character the President requested the audience to give the speaker a fair hearing. Felton holds the Goat Island and railroad subsidy issues are dead, the only question now being the fixing of the rates of fare and freights by law, and whether interest on bonds be paid annually or at maturity. This he said is more a matter of business than one of politics. A large number of Federal office holders are present occupying seats on the platform. Mr. Felton is still speaking. He will be followed by W. H. Sears and J. M. Scott, candidates for the Senate, and probably others.

An extra force of police have been sent to Platt's Hall to-night to preserve order during the remainder of the meeting.

A drunken fellow [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] hard question.

When at Congress Hall Commodore Vanderbilt stepped to the cigar stand and directed the young man in attendance to hand him a fifty cent cigar, after which he directed that cigars costing twenty cents each be given to others in his party, adding that such were good enough for them. Those who witnessed the transaction say that there was nothing in his manner that indicated that the Commodore was anything else but in earnest.

SEEING THE INVISIBLE

Some of the Chicago people have gone wild over the performances of a young man from Iowa, named J. R. Brown, who can, it is gravely asserted, see or read the unuttered thoughts of others. The Inland remarks that this is a startling statement but it is indubitably a fact, and it narrates his exploits thus:

We had the pleasure yesterday afternoon of a visit from Mr. J. R. Brown, of Red Oak, Iowa, the young man endowed with the wonderful power of seeing the invisible. Among his exhibitions were the following, which were repeated several times until every person present was thoroughly convinced that there was no humbuggery in the matter. He directed a gentleman to think of some object in a distant part of the building, and taking a gentleman's left hand placed it upon his own forehead, and after a number of vacillating movements, started out through the door of the room in which they were. With few deviations he traversed the various passages, never tripping, or stumbling against chairs or tables, and going through doorways without a bump straight to the object. Again a number of alphabetical letters were distributed in different parts of the room, when he told a gentleman to call to mind the town in which he was born; then, being blindfolded, he took hold of the person's hand and led him to the several letters, spelling the name of the place. Next he told one present to think of a friend in the city and where he lived. This being done, after a little hesitation he pointed in the exact direction. He also accomplished the still more difficult task of telling what a gentleman was thinking about, by taking hold of the hand of a third party stationed between them together with many more exhibitions of his power equally as wonderful. Mr. Brown himself is not aware of the cause of the means producing these results. He says that when the subject's hand is placed against his head he sees a lambent light appear to emanate from all sides of his brain, following, as he supposes, the thoughts of the other person. When an object is selected to be pointed out, the mind of the subject being directed to it, an unusual line of light appears, and this he follows steadily, which always leads him to the object. The size of this light varies with the size of the object. He states that up to his sixth year he was unaware of his singular gift. At that period when playing with other children he found that contact with them produced in him peculiar sensations, sometimes pain, that in a dark room sparks of what seemed to be fire would fly from the ends of his fingers if his hands were brought suddenly together. His mother used frequently to remark oddities about him, and often spoke of them. Eight years ago he was led to experiment by the accidental passage of a companion's hand across his forehead, to obtain an [illegible] psychic sympathy between their minds. Shortly after he arrived at results similar to those detailed in the trial above mentioned. Mr. Brown is about twenty-one years of age [illegible] [illegible]

LETTER FROM SEATTLE

[illegible] the heaviest property holders refuse to contribute or assist in any way toward the purchasing of a fire engine. [illegible] this fiery ordeal, and arm herself against the invasion of this dreaded fire king. All the buildings here are constructed of wood and so crowded together that should a fire once get hold of the business part of the city, the whole place would be laid in complete ruins. For there has never been a house destroyed here by fire and for this reason the heaviest property holders refuse to contribute or assist in any way toward the purchasing of a fire engine. [illegible] last week a meeting was held by a few citizens to ascertain what could be done toward securing an engine.

There is a report here to the effect that the smallpox was becoming very prevalent at Portland and that already many deaths had [illegible] [illegible] those who had friends in [illegible] [illegible] to be taken to this house, but kept them secretly at their own residences. Whether this report has foundation in fact we do not know, but it seems to me that for the last year Portland has been made the sport of fortune, and that a strange and hapless fate has conspired against her further improvement.

Traveling between here and Olympia has been

GREATLY REDUCED

Since the [illegible] excitement Starr Brothers—one of whom is well known in Portland—have two steamers, the Alida and the North Pacific. The former is an inferior boat, while the last named is one of the fastest and most beautiful on the coast. These they run against the Zephyr, owned by Seattle men, and frequently fare from here to Olympia is only 25 cents. The North Pacific, which runs between

OLYMPIA AND VICTORIA

Touching at all intermediate ports carries passengers from the former to the latter place for $2 50, while the fare from Olympia to Seattle alone is that sum. This competition is highly appreciated by our people, who do not fail to avail themselves of cheap transportation.

A. A. Denny, President of the

SEATTLE AND WALLA WALLA RAILROAD AND TRANSPORTATION COMPANY,

Accompanied by J. J. McGilvra, a Director of the Company, have started from here for Walla Walla via Portland, which place they expect to reach by next Saturday evening, in order to attend the

RAILROAD MEETING

Which is to be held there on the evening of that day. The most cheering results have followed the efforts of the Company so far in the securing of large subscriptions in both lands and coin. A very neat office for the transaction of business has been fitted up, and liberal support is being given it by the entire people of this county. From Eastern Washington papers we see that it is eliciting the earnest attention of the farmers, merchants—every one; and from present indications the people are determined to give this enterprise their full support and confidence. The

THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT COURT

Convened at Seattle on the 11th, Judge Orange Jacobs presiding. Considerable business comes before the Court and it will probably not adjourn before next Saturday. The people of this district of country seem (many of them) most unfortunate in their conjugal relations, there being no less than five or six divorce cases already disposed of, and yet to come before court. One criminal trial which has excited much interest was that of Terry, for the attempted murder of Delbert Wright, five or six weeks since. He was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. When asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon him he arose and said the sentence was just, but that he and Wright had always been friends, and until the day when the unfortunate deed was committed had never had the slightest difficulty. That he was unconscious of the terrible act until the following morning when he awoke from his drunken stupor to find himself in prison awaiting trial for a crime which might cost him his life—certainly his liberty. When sentence was passed upon him he burst into uncontrollable fit of weeping. Thus we see another man disgraced by the blasted and ruined effects of this hard drinking, and honest man who had he left liquor alone would to-day have been a true and respected citizen.

Twenty [illegible] what the Salt Lakers pay for [illegible]

The Salt Lake [illegible] has followed [illegible] with the things of the past.

A piece of [illegible] weighing [illegible] recently fell on a miner at Rock Springs, Wyoming Territory. The report thoughtfully adds that it killed him instantly.

Rev. J. F. DeVore, of the M. E. Church, has held fifteen quarterly conferences on the Puget Sound District, of which he is Presiding Elder, during his last round.

A Salt Lake boy fell and bit a piece of his tongue off, and the Journal neatly says: "Had it been a girl instead of a boy it wouldn't have been so much difference."

A depot will be located along the line of the railroad for the benefit of the people of Steilacoom. The railroad officers offer to locate the site upon any spot the citizens may unite in selecting.

A widow and a farmer living near Olympia ran away the other night and got married, and the [illegible] of the Courier is puzzled to know what they ran for, as they had no boss but themselves.

A large buoy which broke away from its moorings, has lately been brought around from the weather beach to Oysterville, by Mr. Carruthers and Judge Barr, at an expense to the Government of $75.

The Secretary of the Puget Sound Telegraph Company, Mr. James G. Swan, states that since the completion of the company's line to Seattle the receipts have gradually increased, and that last month they exceeded considerably the expense of running the line.

Three vessels are now loading at Port Blakely—one the bark Oak Hill for San Francisco; another the bark Sampson for Melbourne, Australia; and the third the ship Guardian for Callao. The Guardian is a very large vessel, and it is said will carry away 1,400,000 feet of lumber.

A man employed in clearing the track of the railroad two or three miles from Tacoma had his leg broken below the knee last week. He was standing near a falling tree, which when it struck the earth rebounded against the unfortunate man. Dr. Weston, of the Puyallup Indian Reservation, set the broken bones.

The oat crop in Chimacum valley, Jefferson county, W. T., this season is a success. We have heard of one crop that is said to be so tall and thick that it cannot be mowed or cradled and has to be harvested with an ax. Another farmer has oats that yield one hundred and ten bushels to the acre, so it is said. Beat this who can.

Mr. Steve Hilton and Mr. Robert Thompson were coming to Tacoma last Wednesday, and had got as far on their way as the asylum, when Hilton fell dead in the bottom of the buggy. Mr. Hilton was a man not far from forty years of age and leaves a wife and relatives by marriage in the Chehalis valley. His death was from heart disease.

The camp meeting at Goose Point, eight miles from Oysterville, is the first meeting of the kind ever held on Shoalwater Bay. It began on Thursday last. On Sunday about 300 persons were present. The Methodist preachers present and conducting the meeting, were the Rev. Mr. Dennison, of Oysterville; Rev. Mr. Ward, of Chehalis county, and Rev. Mr. Chapman, of Kalama.

John A. Shoudy, Esq., of Ellensburg, Yakima county, arrived in Seattle a few days ago from the above locality. He came overland via the Snoqualmie Pass and reports the road in poor condition—many trees having fallen and obstructed travel. In the valley cattle were in excellent condition, and the settlers busily engaged in harvesting. In company of Mr. Shoudy traveled a gentleman who is about erecting a grist and sawmill at Ellensburg and who is now on his way to obtain the requisite machinery.

The Sheriff of Utah county, Utah, has just discovered a hag near Provo who fully answers to the description of Katie Bender. She has the appearance of a coarse person who had associated rather with wild animals than with human beings, and for years instead of months. Her sufferings must have been such as only the toughest kind of constitution could endure. She is utterly unknown to the people of Provo, to which town she came from the mountains in search of food. The Sheriff [illegible] Katie Bender. She [illegible] [illegible]

McCarty, who was cut in the neck last Sunday by Lewis in Pierce county, had attacked the latter and beaten him twice before. The third time Lewis was cutting some tobacco with a penknife when McCarty knocked him down, jumped on him with heavy boots and then commenced pounding him with his fists, when Lewis began cutting him in the neck with the penknife, severing one of the cords and grazing the jugular. OREGON

Wheat is worth 80 cents per bushel in Corvallis.

Gov. Grover has gone to the coast to recuperate.

The Governor has appointed as Notary Public James H. Shaw, of Empire City, Coos county.

Sixteen persons were added to the Methodist Church at the late camp meeting held near La Grande.

A basket meeting will be held near Dayton on the Webfoot Camp Ground next Sabbath, August 24th.

A Yamhill threshing machine threshed and thoroughly cleaned 215 bushels of wheat in two hours and could have threshed 40 bushels more.

The Third Judicial District Medical Society will hold their quarterly meeting in the College Rooms, Moores Block, Salem, Monday, September 1, 1873, at 2 o'clock P. M.

All persons who have possession of memorials to Congress for signatures in regard to the improvement of the Wallamet river and tributaries are requested to forward the same to B. Goldsmith, Portland, Oregon.

A mining expert from San Francisco, visited the Quartzville mines last week and upon his report, important consequences may result. His opinion of the mines is not positively known here, and we will hazard no guess.

Through a private letter from Wilbur the Advocate learns that the Trustees of the Umpqua Academy at their last meeting raised a subscription of $1,300 toward the erection of a new building in place of the one that was burned.

The following persons have been appointed Commissioners of Deeds by the Governor: John C. Berry for Oregon, to reside in Mobile, Alabama; Hugh Sieberg, to reside in New York; R. G. Hays, to reside in Tacoma, Washington Territory.

McMinnville presents a lively appearance now with the active movement in marketing grain. Large amounts of wheat are constantly arriving at the mills which have both made extra provisions for storing, and are buying considerable at 83 cents per bushel.

Mr. J. J. Burton, of North Yamhill, had a 35 acre field of oats which yielded 85 bushels to the acre. His wheat, which all fell to the ground and was cut with much difficulty, went 30 bushels per acre, besides losing an average of 10 bushels to the acre, by that being lodged so it could not be gathered.

The Yamhill Reporter says: One day last week the boys around a threshing machine loosed their grip on grain and engaged in threshing each other awhile. Two or three of them got knocked down, and one of them got settled with instructions to clinch onto his "Saratoga" and propel, which propeller he was one of.

J. H. Reed, of Halsey, informs the Statesman that Messrs. J. Thompson & Son, warehousemen of that town, made contracts last week for 80,000 bushels of wheat, and had 15,000 more to let out. He says the best informed farmers estimate the yield of Linn county at 50 per cent above last year. Mr. David Newsom says that the wheat thus far threshed on Howell Prairie, Marion county, averages about 30 bushels per acre. It is estimated that about one-sixth of the wheat was thrown down by the rains which preceded harvest. This portion of the grain was not harvested, of course, but it will not be lost, as the farmers will turn their hogs in to feed upon it. Oats on Howell Prairie will average over 50 bushels per acre. Buyers are offering 35 cents per bushel in large lots.

The Astorian of Thursday says: On Tuesday last there appeared suddenly upon the surface of the Columbia river in front of this port countless millions of a species of the Mediterranean herring family about the size of the sardine, but the picture and size of the anchovy. None were seen alive, but dead and floating upon the water. The school spread across the bay from our docks to Cementville, a distance of seven miles, and Captain Poole, of the sloop Mary H., informs us that he struck the floating field about four miles below here, sailing through the mass for a distance of three miles, on his route from Skipanon. They seemed each to have a rupture just below the gills, which produced death, and if not killed by some eruption in nature, akin to an earthquake, must have come in from the sea and overfed themselves swimming against the fresh current of the Columbia, which is not their native element. This same species of fish are found in abundance about the bays and coast of British Columbia, where the natives and others procure them and use them as a substitute for candles. The mass about here on Tuesday would have been sufficient to supply torches for a procession reaching from here to New York.

His name was Baumgardner. He was going down to Cape May on the steamboat, and on the way his tooth began to ache in the most frightful manner. Unable to endure the pain any longer he determined to have the tooth removed summarily. So Baumgardner got a bit of copper wire from the engineer, and twisted one end around the tooth, and when the boat stopped at Newcastle he fastened the other end of the wire to the walking beam of the engine and waited for the jerk that would remove the tooth. That end of the beam, however, was on the down stroke, and the first thing Mr. Baumgardner knew he was proceeding to the boiler room with frightful rapidity. The next instant he was hauled aloft suddenly and flung feet upward into the air. Then he dived down again, then up, then down, bumping against the wood-work, flapping his legs on the rail, slapping himself against the machinery, and plunging about in the most appalling manner, until on a final upstroke the tooth gave way and Baumgardner was flung to the summit of the smoke stack, whence he was rescued by the Captain, who was going to thrash him for stopping off the draught. He is said to have remarked to the landlord upon his arrival at Cape May that while the low-pressure steam engine is undoubtedly a useful invention, its application in the practice of the science of dentistry would be calculated to prejudice the public mind against it.

[illegible] MARRIED.—An incident of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the old man, who shuffled along behind the wagon and fell into a ditch. [illegible] up said his stomach it was very cold but his back it was very warm. His wife cried out "How many wives you think you wants now, old fool?" But the Dutchman felt and expressed that one was enough.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Colonist says the crops on the island are splendid.

An Indian was on Thursday of last week, found lying dead in a cabin in New Westminster, believed to have been from a too free use of whisky.

Reports from the Omineca mines are highly encouraging. All the men who do not own claims are at work for $6 per day. Not an idle man can be found in the camps.

An Indian woman was found dead on Friday at the foot of a hill near Yale. It is supposed that she was killed by two Indians who had stolen some whisky the day before.

Taxlada Island lies in the Gulf of Georgia, opposite Jervis Inlet. It is eighteen miles in length by five or six in breadth. It contains valuable deposits of hematite iron of extraordinary richness.

The New Westminster Guardian says "a poor unfortunate lunatic has been three [illegible] in jail and there is no one here who can [illegible] his examination or arrange for his being [illegible] to the asylum below."

Kootenay has no Magistrate, no Chief Judge, no Justice of the Peace. Mr. [illegible] and Mr. Fearne are the only [illegible] the Government has, and they have no [illegible] ity to act in a judicial capacity.

FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 22, 1873.

PEACE POLICY VS. SICKLY SENTIMENT.

There is a class of persons in the United States who have mixed themselves up with the question of how to manage the Indians, in a way to bring ridicule upon themselves and odium upon the Government. We refer to those one-sided philanthropists who assumed to be the especial exponents of the Peace Policy, and whose idea of that policy seems to be that the Government should overlook any outrage, whether theft, robbery or murder, that may be committed by the Indians, and console itself, when its citizens are ruthlessly butchered, with reflections upon the salutary effect which its example of Christian forbearance is likely to exert upon the mind of the murderers, and all others of their race. These false representatives of a just and righteous system of dealing with the Indians, appear to take no note of the atrocities perpetrated upon the whites, except to use them as occasions for new appeals in behalf of the gentle "children of the forest" who are made [illegible] by oppressions, and never im[illegible] their hands in human blood, but in [illegible] of their horses, their huts, their [illegible], and their pappooses. The complacency with which this sort of non[illegible] is thrust under the nose of the President, and in the face of the public upon every occasion, is astonishing to [illegible]. The race of abstractionists, miscalled [illegible], who sit in their studies in [illegible] and spectacles, and reason about the [illegible] of the Indian and the best method of dealing with him, know little of the [illegible] of the problem they have in [illegible]. It requires little of that observa[illegible] and practical knowledge of Indian [illegible], which men on this western [illegible] receive per force in the ups and [illegible] to which most of them are subject[illegible] the shallow views of the [illegible] philanthropist.

[illegible] of this false sentimentalism [illegible] is the appeal made by "Quakers and other friends of the [illegible] Policy," to the President, for clemency in behalf the Modoc murderers, who [illegible] duly convicted. The idea that [illegible] thrice guilty cut-throats are to be [illegible] with simply as erring and misguided [illegible], who are not responsible for their [illegible], is nothing less than revolting. [illegible] not know that the murder of a number of the settlers on Tule Lake [illegible]? Did they not comprehend [illegible] of their treacherous assassination of Canby and Thomas, whom they [illegible] to visit them on a mission of good-will? [illegible] to think of these advocates of [illegible] radical objections [illegible] of the Commission that [illegible] the Modocs! If the question is one [illegible] and substantial justice, [illegible] burden it and weaken its moral [illegible] objections? So zeal[illegible], indeed, that they go into the [illegible] for precedent upon [illegible] their legal objection, citing [illegible], which, we suppose, [illegible] Milligan, in the Supreme [illegible] of the United States, and which has [illegible] upon the law of the case [illegible] Modocs, than it has on [illegible] of gravitation. To such lengths [illegible] go who become fanatical in pur[illegible] a notion, even though it be a false [illegible].

[illegible] the peace policy, as explained by [illegible], and as the President [illegible] to carry it out, is the only policy to be observed in the treatment of the Indians, we believe the best [illegible] people, West as well as East, [illegible]. But this does not in[illegible] amnesty to the savages of perfect [illegible] from punishment for the crimes [illegible] commit. It contemplates fair [illegible] the Government and the [illegible] punishment of the individual [illegible] commits crimes, and not a war [illegible] extermination against a whole [illegible] a single individual [illegible] to it has been guilty of [illegible] or a theft. It proposes to [illegible] the Indians as friends and not as [illegible], holding the persons responsible [illegible] are guilty, instead of treating the [illegible] people as public enemies, because [illegible] of their number has done wrong. This is the true way. It is the way Chris[illegible] deal with their own citizens or [illegible]. It is the way of true philanthropy, and it is the way the Government is [illegible] by every consideration of regard [illegible] the rights of the Indians no less than [illegible] of the whites, to treat the case of the [illegible] murderers.

MIGHTY BAD "PROPORTIONMENT."

The Progressionist, a newspaper published at the village of Cornelius, in Washington County, and edited by a man who voted for Greeley against Grant at the last Presidential election, expresses great dissatisfaction at the action of the Republican Central Committee for that county in making the "proportionment" of delegates to the County Convention. The Greeley editor insists that the Presidential vote is not the right basis, and that a "fair proportionment" would have been based on the Congressional vote. It is not to be expected that the action of the Republican organization will be exactly to the liking of members of the opposition, such as the editor of the Progressionist; but we should suppose that a person just taken out of the enemy's camp and licked into shape to be used as a Republican for a specific and not very commendable purpose, would possess sufficient modesty, at least, to acquiesce in the official action of the Republican organization for a little while. And we take the liberty to add that if the intelligence of this new convert were equal to his willingness to find fault with old Republicans, he would know that the State Central Committee adopted the Presidential instead of the Congressional vote as the basis of proportionment; and unless his logic is as badly confused as his ideas about the meaning of words, he would reason that the basis of "proportionment" adopted by the State Central Committee would naturally be chosen by the County Committees, and would give a "fair proportionment."

In the "proportionment" of our space we have devoted a greater "proportionment" to this obscure "Liberal" Republican than we should have done, had we not been extremely hard up for something to write about.

PUTTING THEM ON THE RECORD.

Californians do most things in their own way, and their ways are not always like the ways of other people. Their nominating conventions have some sort of competitive examination system which they apply to candidates for Legislative offices. Not only in San Francisco, but instead of the valley places the practice appears to be to have persons who desire nominations, go in and declare their positions before the convention upon the questions at issue. This is a pretty severe ordeal for a politician to be subjected to. But we suppose it is understood that "before and after the election are different things." At least so it appears to be regarded by some of our Oregon politicians who were elected to the Legislature last year upon definite pledges to their constituents, which they violated without any apparent qualms of conscience when the opportunity came. California politicians may be made of sterner stuff than those of our own State; but we shall be a little skeptical about the utility of these anxious-seat promises till time and temptation have tested them.

Senator Harlan's Chronicle of the 10th inst. condemns the present system of competitive examinations for civil service in the strongest terms, declaring that they are unequal, unjust and a failure. It says that the execution of the rules will result in lowering the standard of official ability and excellence. The examinations in many instances are conducted without any reference to the object to be attained, and in direct opposition to the ordinary rules that govern and control business men in the selection of their assistants. There may be some good in the system, but as yet no evidences of it have been shown either in its execution or in the selections made under its rules, other than that which might have resulted had there been no civil service examination whatever. At the recent examination for positions in the Treasury Department, twenty-three of twenty-four successful ones were female school teachers, nearly all residents of Washington.

If there be any feasible method of reaching the North Pole the Norwegian explorers, whose voyage northward we mentioned some time since, have adopted it. They have sent out three vessels whose sole duty it is to make depots of stores at convenient intervals all along the route, to be followed by sledges hereafter. A dispatch received at Stockholm recently, indicates that this expedition has met with encouraging success as far as it has gone. Important results are expected from the observations taken, especially of the Northern Lights as analyzed by the spectrum. As regards the deep sea dredging it could be continued nearly all the time. The specimens brought to the surface show that animal life is in no way interfered with by the severe cold and darkness continuing for many months, while vegetable life flourishes in profusion.

The developments of official corruption that have taken place during the last year appear to be regarded by many as a cause of discouragement. Why should it not be rather a hopeful indication? When the body politic becomes corrupt, and has not sufficient energy and vitality left to cast out the impurities, there is cause for alarm. But when the corruption is cast out with such prompt vigor, there is reason to believe there is virtue enough left in society to save it from destruction.

The Atchinese, finding themselves in imminent peril of being crushed by the Dutch, offer the United States free commercial intercourse in exchange for protection. This offer will of course be accepted. It would be so nice to embroil ourselves in a quarrel with Holland for the sake of enjoying friendly relations and commercial privileges with a few small islands of the torrid zone, inhabited by rebellious Mohammedans. By all means let us unite with Atchinese rebels and filibuster ourselves into a war with the Dutch.

CITY.

THE SNAKE.—Do not start, gentle reader, for no allusion is made to those imaginary reptiles which sometimes trouble the diseased fancy of the inturned debauchee. Editors as a general thing do not take kindly to snakes in the boots, although as a class they are not exempt from that convivial habit which superinduces the advent of these repulsive visitors to the mind. We must confess that where the matter becomes a thing of choice we should have but little preference between an imaginary and a real snake provided it became necessary to keep the interesting saurian in our boots. Yesterday a veritable serpent was placed on our table by Mr G W Walling of Oswego. Ordinarily the sudden appearance of a live snake on the table would have been the signal for a precipitate retreat from the room, as the interests of science, in the name of which so many narrow risks and escapes are made, would hardly warrant a close inspection of the reptile species. However his snakeship was securely confined in a strong glass jar and the top was covered tightly—almost hermetically we might add—with a strong piece of tin, so that we felt a moderate degree of safety to remain in the same room. Emboldened at length by the torpidity and apparent harmlessness of the snake, we took courage and ventured to cautiously examine the peculiarities of this species of reptilia. In length we should say that this specimen was about 16 inches. The color of the back and sides is a light reddish brown. To those who are at all conversant with the reptilia peculiar to this State this specimen would be recognized at a glance as the "milk or two-headed" snake. This species so far as known is perfectly harmless. Such snakes have never been known to bite either person or animal. They are very sluggish and will rarely move unless disturbed. One peculiarity is possessed by this species, which has won for it the appellation "two headed." It possesses a real head, and its tail is an almost perfect counterpart in appearance. There are what appears to be a real mouth, eyes, etc, but the false is much smaller than the genuine head. To heighten the deception, the snake can crawl either way, which would tend to confirm the belief that it has two heads. We have the testimony of several persons who have carefully examined (we never did), that there is but one head to the members of this species. Unless closely inspected, the appearance of the snake is calculated to lead the observer to a false conclusion. These snakes are generally met with during the warm summer months, and are invariably found in the immediate vicinity of water. Mr Walling who captured this specimen was exhibiting it yesterday and during the day the snake was an object of interest and curiosity to hundreds of persons.

POWDER-BURNED.—Andrew Stearns, a lad aged about fifteen years, residing at the corner of Third and Grant streets, met with a very severe accident yesterday afternoon. He had obtained about one-fourth of a pound of powder, and was intending to go hunting to-day. Very foolishly, and like most boys, Andrew went into the back yard and began to experiment a little with the dangerous article. He poured out probably half a gill of powder in a small heap. Next he struck a match and applied it to the heap just to "see it go off." It went off to a certainty, and that too, before the foolish boy had time to wink, much less spring back out of the way. At the instant he happened to be directly above the heap, and as a natural consequence was badly burned. His eye-brows were burned off, his hair singed to a crisp, and his whole face, from the throat to the forehead, blackened and severely burned. The lips were blistered, and the nostrils for more than an inch were rendered skinless. A few minutes after the accident the features had swollen to frightful proportions and were wholly unrecognizable. A physician was summoned with all dispatch, and soothing remedies applied. Young Stearns at last accounts was suffering great pain. Providentially the eyes have escaped uninjured. The injuries are severe, but not regarded of a dangerous character. When will boys learn that powder won't do to trifle with?

WILL DEPART.—The steamer John L Stephens will sail for San Francisco this morning at 6 o'clock. The following passengers took their departure: N Koshland, T Marks, C Preg, M Meyer, W Tool and wife, K W Hensley, I E Williams, N Baum, B Selling, J Jacobs, L Kline, L Cox, Otto Wolfshon, Marshall Kinney, S A Clark, L H Allen, James Garable, Mrs Damfeser, J Beckman, Mother Stanislaus and two Sisters, W W Bancroft, Mrs S H Hansel, M E Traver, Harry Smith, S Hamilton, T J Clark and wife, Miss Ella Murray, Mrs K Whiting and daughter, Miss Mary Hughes, Prof Gilman, Rev W H Branberer, Rev R W Wilson, J M Sharp, H H Biglow, Chas Kolin, Sol Frohman, Capt J C Ainsworth, Judge Reed, J H Kruse, Thos Davis, Mrs Palmesby, Master Marsh, James Field and wife, Richard Fay, W S Aklesterman, S G Orr, U S A, Mrs G Gerst, two children and sister, and six persons in the steerage.

REV. THOS. H. PEARNE.—In regard to this gentleman, for many years a resident of the State, the Advocate says: "Dr. Pearne, formerly editor of this paper, took a superannuated relation to his conference three years ago on account of his ill-health. He has been, since that time recruiting his health and strength in the United States consulate at Kingston Jamaica. We are glad to learn that he has so far recovered as to anticipate an early return to the more active duties of life. He is expected back to the United States some time during the present month and will then enter into service in behalf of the American Colonization Society, with his residence somewhere west of the Alleghanies. He has been appointed one doubt in this new relation do a good and useful of the S[illegible] of that Society, and will no work for Africa, God and humanity."

AN ENTERPRISING COMMUNITY.—The enterprising community residing within the limits of the Mount Tabor School District, composed of sturdy, reliable farmers, have displayed an interest and energy in matters educational which is worthy of the highest commendation. During the present season the school district has erected a large, commodious school house which is all finished and ready for occupancy. This building is 30 by 40 feet, one and a half stories high. It is 16 feet in the clear from the floor to the ceiling. Hard finished throughout, painted and grained. The building presents a very neat tasty appearance, and the citizens of that neighborhood feel justly proud of the new school house.

AN OLD CITIZEN GONE.—Mr Henry Bird, an old and respected citizen of this place, died at his residence at the corner of Eighth and Columbia streets, Wednesday morning, about 11 o'clock. Mr Bird fell from a horse about 18 months ago and received injuries from which he never recovered. During the greater portion of the last year he has been confined to his bed, being at times a great sufferer. He was always a cheerful genial man, an affectionate husband, kind father and good neighbor. He was long a member of the M E Church. The funeral services will take place to-morrow at 1 o'clock.

UNINTENTIONAL ERROR.—In yesterday morning's issue in speaking of the marriage of Hon S C Wingard and Miss Churchill, which took place at Olympia on Wednesday, we were misinformed as to the minister who performed the ceremony. We stated that Rev T [illegible] of this city officiated on the occasion. Rev Wm McPheeters was the minister who performed the ceremony.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday as the stage containing a number of passengers was approaching the Albany depot Mr [illegible] of Corvallis fell from the vehicle, the wheels of which passed over him, injuring his legs so severely that medical aid was required. He was brought to this city and placed in the care of Dr Wilson.

UNDER ADVISEMENT.—The case of the State vs Stallman Lewis, charged with embezzlement, came up yesterday for examination before Justice Ryan. After a preliminary examination of the charges preferred the matter was taken under advisement until this morning.

TRUSTEES MEETING.—The Trustees of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary will hold their annual meeting at the office of ex Governor Gibbs on Monday, September 3d, at 3 o'clock P M. A full attendance is desired.

LAUNCH OF THE "BEAVER."

Yesterday afternoon a few minutes past 4 o'clock the steamer Beaver was launched from the ways at the upper sawmill in the presence of a large number of spectators. Impelled by motives of interest and curiosity several hundred persons assembled at the yard to witness the launching of the new craft. Some little delay occurred as is generally the case in getting everything in complete readiness before the ropes which held the hull in its proper position were severed. At a few minutes past 4 o'clock the signal was given, the ropes were severed and the beautiful craft glided down the ways—not as smoothly however as might have been wished—into her new element. At the moment it touched the water a piece of canvas bearing the name of the steamer—Beaver—was run up and an enthusiastic cheer went up from the spectators. Mr J F Steffins, the contractor and chief builder of the new craft, deserves great credit for the very superior workmanship and taste he has evinced in the construction of the Beaver. He is an excellent workman in the true sense of the term, as is manifested by the beauty, model and symmetrical lines of the hull. She sits very handsomely on the water. We heard many praises bestowed upon her appearance, and have no doubt that she will prove one of the prettiest steamers that ply on our rivers. The following are the dimensions of the Beaver: Length 125 feet, width 25 feet, depth of hold 4 feet; when empty she draws 8 inches, and will be propelled by two engines each 11 inch bore and 4 feet stroke. The boiler is 20 feet long, 3½ feet in diameter, and has about 100 tubes. The Beaver is owned by the Willamette River Transportation Company and is designed for the upper Willamette trade. The contract calls for the completion of the steamer by the 1st of September, but owing to unavoidable delays it is probable that she will not be ready to commence operations until some time in October, when she will take her place on the line with the Gov Grover, Shoshone and Vancouver, and we predict that the new craft will soon become a great favorite with freighters and the traveling public. The work necessary for her completion will be carried on with all dispatch and we hope soon to announce her trial trip.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

PERSONAL, LOCAL AND GENERAL, ETC

[From the Catholic Sentinel.]

Rev A M A Blanchet, Bishop of Nesqualy, arrived at his home in Vancouver last Friday afternoon, from a short visit to Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory.

From a letter of Rev A J Glorieux, President of the Father Mathew T A B Society, to Rev James McDevitt, President of the Catholic Temperance Union of America, which letter was published in the monthly circular of the Union, we see that they are about to ask for admittance into the Union.

Rev Mother Stanislaus, Mother General of the Sisters of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, who has been among us for several months, visiting the different establishments of the Order in Oregon, leaves on the steamship John L Stephens this morning for her home in Canada, via Oakland, California.

We are advised that the Holy Angels College for boys situated at Vancouver, Washington Territory, under the immediate supervision of Rev A M A Blanchet, D D, Bishop of Nesqualy, will resume classes on the 1st of September. We are also desired to state that the boarding school will be discontinued, and only day scholars will be taken.

[From the P C Advocate.]

Rev. John Thompson, of the Northwest Indiana Conference, at present District Superintendent of the American Bible Society for the Pacific coast, and Rev P C Hetzler, of the United Brethren Church, Bible Agent for the Oregon work, arrived by the steamer on Tuesday evening last.

We understand that the fare from Portland to Olympia for the preachers attending the annual conference, commencing September 3d, will be reduced one-half. Full fare is expected on the trip to Olympia, but free passes will be given on the return trip to those presenting their certificates obtained from the Secretary of the conference.

The Board of Stewards, connected with the Taylor street M E Church, have resolved to hold a closing sociable in appreciation of the valuable labors of their pastor Rev G W Izer, during the past year. The ladies of the church have been requested to lend their aid in making this contemplated sociable one of the most interesting of the whole year. It will be held in the basement story of the church on Wednesday evening next, August 27th.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

Mr C F Speck has been elected Captain of the Pacific Club's playing nine.

The Olympia Club have signified their willingness to play in the proposed tournament.

The Pioneer Club will play a practice game the first in three weeks, next Tuesday, when they will take into consideration the challenge of the picked nine from the Clackamas and Pacific Clubs. We have no doubt they will agree to play on the 30th.

The long-talked of Cricket match between the married and single elevens will take place on the east side to-morrow afternoon. As the game is a novelty to many, and the players reputed to be well versed in this athletic sport, insuring an interesting contest, we have no doubt but that the attendance will be large.

Our attention has been called to some remarks made in a recent issue of the Salem Statesman relative to the final and deciding game of the series between the College and Pioneer clubs, in which the writer thinks the College club should claim the championship for the reason that the Pioneers would not play them. This is rather presumptive on the part of the Statesman. They gave good and sufficient reasons for not playing the College boys when the latter Club asked them to go to Canby, and are not desirous of taking any advantage of their worthy opponents. As all the players of the College Club will be in Salem on the 20th proximo, and having plenty of spare time to practice, it should be convenient, as well as advantageous, for them to play at the time mentioned. Neither Club will have a fair opportunity to do their best playing during the Fair as then other Clubs will play them in all probability, and that will tend to weaken the strength of either nine. The Pioneers concede a great deal when they give the College Club a chance to play them in Salem, and certainly with the advantage the College boys have of practicing they cannot complain.

PERSONAL.

Mr S A Clarke, editor of the Farmer, called on us yesterday. He goes to San Francisco this morning by steamer.

W C Griswold of Salem, who has just returned from Washington, and Col C S Drew of Utah, formerly of Oregon, were visiting Portland yesterday.

Hon A A Denny and J J McGilvra, Esq, of Seattle, are in this city en route for Walla Walla to confer with the people of that place in relation to the railway between the two cities.

Rev H C Benson, D D, for several years editor of the P C Advocate and present editor of the California Christian Advocate, will sail for Portland on the next steamer. He will be present during the coming Conference of the M E Church, which will convene on the 3d of September.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

J J Jones & Son have resumed business at their old stand on Second street near Main. Grocers will bear this in mind and tender this old firm their orders for coffee and spice.

Mr B Dittenhoefer, who has been absent from the city, has returned with an extensive stock of tobacco, cigars and notions, with which he has filled the store formerly occupied by Baum Bros. Mr Dittenhoefer has had a large experience in the business and is fully [illegible] with the wants of the trade. We bespeak for him a liberal share of patronage. AID FOR PORTLAND.

A MASS MEETING HELD AT ST LOUIS, MISSOURI, ON THE FIFTH INST IN AID OF PORTLAND SUFFERERS

The following proceedings had by the citizens of St Louis, Missouri, at a mass meeting held on the [illegible] of August, we [illegible]:

At the adjournment of the Call Board on Change yesterday, Webb M Samuel [illegible] the recently vacated stand and [illegible] the [illegible] together [illegible] of the merchants who [illegible] had been [illegible] special purpose, which [illegible] announced.

When quiet had been restored he said: You have all doubtless heard that a sweeping conflagration has recently spread disaster and misfortune to the city of Portland, Oregon. Within a few years a similar disaster to our neighboring city of Chicago aroused the sympathy and substantial aid of the civilized world. Although the magnitude of the disaster to Chicago was much greater than that to Portland, and to its larger population, still to the citizens themselves the disaster to Portland is equally severe. It has been thought proper that the citizens of St Louis should extend to our suffering city of the Pacific coast her sympathy and substantial aid, and this meeting is called together to-day for the purpose of inaugurating some measures by which relief can be extended to the city of Portland. There are some gentlemen who have some remarks to make, and I wish to introduce first Mr R P Tansey.

Mr Tansey came forward and said:

GENTLEMEN OF THE EXCHANGE: It was expected that the Rev W G Eliot would address the Exchange to-day touching a subscription for the suffering people of Portland. He has however addressed to me a personal note stating that he is obliged to attend the funeral of a friend, and he asks that a few brief remarks that he had prepared should be read to you by me. I will therefore proceed to read to you

WHAT DR ELIOT WOULD HAVE SAID

Had he been here.

FELLOW CITIZENS—In making an appeal for the suffering poor in the city of Portland, Oregon, I wish it to be distinctly understood that I have no official authority to speak upon the subject. That brave young community will probably meet its own losses without public complaint, and will make no appeal for outside assistance. Yet their loss has been nearly, if not quite as great in proportion to their strength as that of the Chicago fire. This may seem to be an exaggeration, but when all the circumstances are taken into account I think it is true. Chicago was a city with 300 000 inhabitants known all over the world, and everybody was eager to help. Portland is a quiet steady going, conservative town with 12 000 people which has never taken any pains to advertise itself. Chicago was half owned in New York and Boston, and by those cities she was sure to be built up again. Portland like St Louis owns herself and must do her own work of recovery. The citizens there are not wealthy, with comparatively few exceptions. They are not accustomed to go into debt and do not like to borrow. Most of them are beginners, with a small capital and dependent upon their earnings. They are the sort of people that would rather suffer than live upon charity, and so they will struggle through their difficulties and take care of their own poor as well as they can.

But there will be and is now a great deal of suffering, and if we can put $1 000 in the hands of discreet persons there by telegraphic dispatch to-day it would not only do a great deal of good, but will be a kindly word of sympathy which will strengthen their hands and encourage their hearts.

I think we ought to do it. There are a great many Missourians and Kentuckians and Virginians in Portland who will naturally think of us in this time of trouble, and we ought not to forget them.

Fellow-citizens, it is not a case in which we can get any glory or praise, but it is an opportunity of doing a generous action for deserving people. It is a good chance of doing as we would be done by, and I think we are willing to do it.

The Chairman then read a letter from J M Jordan & Co, horticulturists, asking the meeting to accept a basket of flowers donated in behalf of the movement. The basket was beautiful and ornate in the highest degree and glowed with the hues of some of the rarest flowers, among which may be mentioned coleus, fretonias (eight varieties), versus discolor, gemnastorcas, cyberus, alternafolia, rose buds, fuschias, geraniums and a great many other varieties that are better known.

The Chairman called on Mr Tansey to sell the basket at auction, which that gentleman proceeded to do in the highest style of the art. It was first knocked down amid applause, to Henry T Blow, who redonated and it was knocked down again and again until it had rolled up the neat little sum of $255.

THE FOLLOWING COMMITTEE

Was then appointed to solicit subscriptions for the further relief of the sufferers by the Portland fire, to report on Friday: W H Scudder, President; R P Tansey, Rev William G Eliot, George Bain and Miles Sells. On Friday it is stated another bouquet will be donated by Mr Jordan for the same purpose. It is only necessary to add that previous to the meeting several hundred dollars were collected among the merchants by the personal efforts of Mr Tansey.

AMOUNT RECEIVED

Since the above proceedings were had by the citizens of St Louis Rev T L Eliot of this city has received the sum of $1 100, which sum was contributed by the generous people of that city. A telegraphic transfer of $500 was received very soon after the fire, and a few days ago Mr Eliot received an additional transfer of $600. Of the above sum, a considerable amount has already been disbursed by Mr Eliot among the sufferers. The residue he still holds subject to the order of the Disbursing Committee, to be applied whenever and wherever it may be deemed best. In addition to the above amounts Mr Eliot received a few days since a check for $25, payable here, from Mr S P Smith, banker, at Sparta, Illinois. This makes a total amount of $1 125, which that gentleman has received from abroad.

OBSTINATE DISEASES, no matter how they originate, and without regard to the sex of the sufferer, are cured without danger or inconvenience by Helmbold's Ext Buchu, the great Diuretic, which acts specifically upon the Kidneys, Bladder and auxiliary organs. No other preparation possesses the fully developed merits of Helmbold's Extract. It is the only genuine Buchu, and it never fails. John F Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

For Throat Diseases [illegible]

All the year round, Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders should be given to horses that are kept up. To horses and cattle that graze in summer they should only be given in winter and spring.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Several vessels overdue.

The Oriflamme came in last evening with colors flying.

Steamer off before many of our readers peruse this paper.

The City Rifles will hold their target excursion about the 1st of October.

The young man Daniel McCormick who was stabbed in East Portland on Sunday last is getting along finely.

The steamer Gussie Telfair arrived at Nanaimo on her trip north, with her tugboat gone. The cause of the loss was not known on shore.

The schooner Sy [illegible], the first vessel of the Star line for the upper coast, will leave quick dispatch for Seattle, Tacoma, Olympia and all ports on Puget Sound immediately after her arrival at this port from San Francisco.

We were shown several branches of plum and prune trees by Mr Eliot Saunders, raised at Walling's orchard near Milwaukie, which were clustered as thickly as grapes with the fruit. Such prolific bearing branches as these are rarely seen.

Benjamin Branch, the young man who had his leg broken on Saturday last by a fall from a scaffold while at work upon Corbett's building, is rapidly improving. The limb was very badly fractured above and into the ankle joint, requiring the utmost care and skill in dressing, which was well effected by placing it in a splint of plaster paris.

SPECIAL CHURCH NOTICES.

There will be religious services in the Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran church in East Portland next Sunday, August 24th, in the Norwegian language at 11 o'clock and in the English as usual at 2 o'clock P M. Rev A F Egidrichsen, D D, will officiate.

TO THE PUBLIC.

We are now getting on the way a new and fresh stock of fine furniture, which will be superior in quality and newer in design than the one destroyed by the fire, and which we will offer for sale on advantageous terms. Meanwhile we are well prepared to supply the present demand from our temporary location, corner of Fifth and Taylor streets, near the U S Custom House. Respectfully

HURGREN & SHINDLER

SOME people may become excited over the [illegible] of the Northern Pacific Railroad on Puget Sound, but it does not disturb Beck & Waldman, corner Front and Washington streets, in the least, as they intend to pursue the usual course to their customers, and that is to sell goods at prices which will enable them, with limited means, to provide themselves with good clothing at a very small outlay of money. Farmers should bring their children to this house for neat fitting suits.

No man can put it off until to-morrow with safety. Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis should be treated at once if the sufferer desires to save himself the lingering terrors of consumption. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry will effect these cures, as thousands have attested.

A HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.—No family should be without some efficacious remedy for the cure of affections so universally prevalent as coughs, colds, sore throat, whooping cough and croup—some remedy, too, which can be relied upon as safe, sure and certain. Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry combines the desideratum.

COLEMAN'S EUCALYPTUS

Dr J S Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus is a preparation combining all the valuable medical qualities of the Eucalyptus which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medical [illegible] become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY C[illegible], and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and [illegible] surroundings and cures them by its alterative healing and balsamic properties more effectively than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U S Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the promised results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful antiperiodic and febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and arsenical remedies of those diseases are entirely avoided.

FOR PHYSICIANS Coleman's Fluid Extract of Eucalyptus in 1 lb bottles.

Beware of imitations and take none but COLEMAN'S. For sale everywhere and by HODGE CALEF & CO, Wholesale Druggists, Portland, Sole Agents for Oregon.

A YOUNG LADY'S LETTER

EPISTLE FROM A BELLE AT SARATOGA TO HER FRIEND IN NEW YORK.

A reporter of the Daily Graphic at Saratoga while prowling around on the beach, picked up a letter to a girl in town and as he hadn't a stamp about his clothes and was anxious to have the girl receive her letter concluded the easiest way would be to publish it. It is a nice sort of letter and will interest other girls who have been compelled to stay at home.

MY DARLING JULIA First let me tell you all about myself I'm just lovely and having such a time! Flirting in Saratoga ain't like flirting in New York—in the horrid box at the opera, or on the atrocious stairs at a party. We have just the whole back balcony all to ourselves and then we walk over to the graveyard and pretend to go down to bowl and stray off into Congress Spring Park Then the drives! My lovely phaeton—and Prancer she's just too sweet for anything! Now the idea of calling a horse sweet!

"How do I look?"

Well, the best way to tell you that is to send you a sketch which Dick made for me Now you don't know who Dick is I suppose Well Julia—now don't you mention it—he's—Dick is—well, I'm engaged to him! Dick is a brunette, you know and I'm a blonde He's poetical and I'm prosy He's lean and I'm stout. He's serious and I'm giddy He's smart and I'm—but you should just see his [illegible]ance. Such eyes!

And such a divine mustache, Julia!

I know he loves me He's told me so fifty times, and when I tell him I love him he draws a long, sad sigh, and says

"I am very happy, darling; I like to be loved."

That's all he says, but I know he loves me.

I know you want to know how I got Dick "on the string," now don't you? Well, I'll tell you. There is a Miss Virginia Vaughn [illegible] at the Clarendon She's an old thing, [illegible] awfully cross and prudish, as all those [illegible] girls are.

Ha, ha! You know, Dick, he says the Clar[illegible] must be an awful healthy place.

"Why?" I asked.

"[illegible] all the young ladies live to [illegible] forty-five or forty years old there."

[illegible] the sketch!

[illegible] so healthy up there, O dear! a [illegible] of them would have been dead [illegible] wouldn't they?

[illegible] Virginia Vaughn knew Dick [illegible] was engaged to him [illegible] here. How he could have [illegible] that cross thing, I don't know [illegible] she eat me up if she could—

[illegible] Vaughn and my Dick look just [illegible]

Well, to tell you how I first met Dick Vir[illegible], you know, was engaged to him! About [illegible] ago she got a telegraph from the Ma[illegible] Newport, saying her mother was dying. Virginia had to go, of [illegible]. So she came to me and said she loved [illegible], and she hated to leave him—the supple[illegible] that as they were engaged Dick [illegible] be quite lonesome without her The [illegible] Then she asked me to sort of en[illegible] Dick till she came back. Sit on the [illegible], you know, and promenade, etc. [illegible] I did it; you may be assured I did. I [illegible] poor Richard, "Poor [illegible] isn't it? I mean for me. I [illegible] in the park We sat [illegible] said I was lonely I [illegible] was not want for any one to live all [illegible] let my hand fall gently [illegible] he took it—any fellow [illegible] You know the rest. In three [illegible] me and—I—well, of [illegible] Of course I had to. [illegible] a fuss we had, though! One day [illegible] on that seat alone, reading and [illegible] Dick. I knew he was coming—of [illegible] Pretty soon I heard some one [illegible] me. I was sure it was [illegible] not to notice him [illegible] close up, and gave me a [illegible] my bare neck.

[illegible] how could you, darling?" I [illegible] looking up—good gracious! [illegible] do you think? Why, it wasn't Dick at [illegible] old, poky, cross Vir[illegible] Vaughn!

[illegible] she made a fuss about it, and [illegible] at and all that, but [illegible] is mine now, and they say [illegible] actually put on mourning!

[illegible] (we girls don't call her Vir[illegible]) has got some other beau now [illegible] Hatcher, of the Brooklyn [illegible] she is a little champagney and [illegible] but his father is rich—[illegible] any one. Hadn't [illegible] she has got old gray-headed [illegible] of the Jockey Club. [illegible] drives a dog-cart with a tiger [illegible] English clothes! Then [illegible] club-house smell about him [illegible] like dried champagne and cigar [illegible] Dick says all these club men smell [illegible] bar.

[illegible] coming! [illegible] good old pa! I'm going right [illegible] to him and tell him about Dick get [illegible] yes, and then tease him out of such [illegible] Diamonds, laces, silver, six brides[illegible] and—goodness I wonder [illegible] want to do like those Union Club [illegible] off and [illegible] the entire honey[illegible] with the fellows and leave me at home! [illegible] dreadful! Oh, dear! [illegible] I must close Let's see, what [illegible] about? Next time I'll tell you [illegible] By-by! You old darling!

[illegible] July 23. MINNIE

[illegible] AT THEATRES

The Pall Mall Gazette has the following [illegible] William Norton Perse of the Royal [illegible] was charged at Malboro street to-day [illegible] misconduct at the Princess' Theatre. [illegible] Watts, box-office keeper at the [illegible], said the defendant came to the theatre rather late last night, with an ad[illegible] for the stalls, but not being dressed ap[illegible] he was refused admission, and of[illegible] an admission to another part of the [illegible]. The defendant declined to accept it or to leave the entrance when requested, and caused an obstruction to the thorough[illegible].

Mr. Newton asked what was the nature of the disturbance, and where was the thoroughfare spoken of

The witness said he could not exactly de[illegible] the disturbance. The thoroughfare was inside the theatre

Mr. Newton asked the witness whether he [illegible] to admit persons to the stalls dressed like the defendant then was in a morning [illegible]

The witness said the defendant was not [illegible] quite the same, last night, as he then [illegible] had a pink scarf on

Mr Newton said if persons who went to a theatre were all to dress in a particular way [illegible] would be an end to theatres. Did the [illegible] object to frock coats?

The witness said he did not but gentlemen must have white ties on It was the custom of the theatre

Mr Newton said it was perfectly new to him to be told that persons must go in one particular kind of dress to the stalls of a theatre.

One of the lessees of the theatre said he believed it to have been the rule for seven years that gentlemen visiting the stalls should be dressed in a particular manner

Mr. Newton said he considered it a very preposterous rule and added in discharging the defendant that he had been to the French plays very often and seen persons dressed in all sorts of styles

The Paris Figaro's latest anecdote is that Sir Bartle Frere, while in Africa became separated from his party in the forest Coming upon a hut its occupant an old negress gave him some eggs to make an omelette While preparing this he noticed what he thought were small mushrooms hanging from the roof Seizing some of them against the remonstrances of the negress, he put them into the pan and they gave flavor to his dish Soon after the owner of the cabin entered and angrily told Sir Bartle that those suppositious mushrooms were his war trophies and the ears of his slain enemies

The photographers recently in convention in Buffalo, spent the greater part of their time in discussing the question, whether a photographer could be called an artist, and finally, by a [illegible] vote, they decided that he could

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California 12s 1@12s 7[illegible]; Club 12s 8d@12s 9d

A Washington City dispatch of the 11th inst says the Treasury Department is advised of a gross violation of the National Bank Law on the part of the more important of the National Banks of New York city. It appears that in order to assist the operations of the Bull clique [illegible] some of these banks have been accustomed to subject the gold on deposit to double use they have both reported it to the Treasury Department as special gold deposits and [illegible] it as special [illegible] Such a use of the gold is a direct violation of the banking law and involves perjury on the part of those banking officials [illegible] It is also stated that much of the gold reported has been [illegible] of special deposits subject to call and which could not be held as assets in the event of its being [illegible]. The Bank Examiner will be instructed to investigate the matter

Home Produce Market

WHEAT—By our latest hospital list of this morning, it would appear that California farmers and holders of wheat are taking advantage of the excited state of the S F market and are disposing of large lots. While we might be justified in expressing our belief that they are doing the thing that is best for themselves we deem that laying the facts before our readers and leaving them to form their own opinions as to the expediency of selling at current rates more consistent with our duty. Hence we have no warning voice to lift against the conduct of those who when wheat is $1 70 hold for $1 80 and when it is $1 80 hold for something higher. To-day our market appears but little changed from its condition last noted Some exporters are anxious buyers but say they will give only $1 60 ₽ cental while holders claim that the cereal ought to be quoted at $1 70 There is but little prospect of an understanding between these two classes, and until one or the other makes a concession transactions will be limited

FLOUR—In consequence of the condition of the wheat market above noted flour has been advanced 50 cents per barrel in this city on best brands

OATS—Our market is not very abundantly supplied, though some early lots of the new crop are occasionally offering The buyers are cautious about making orders for future delivery though paying 40@43 cents for present receipts The crop of the state is doubtless the largest ever raised in Oregon

BARLEY—Our market is very quiet, there being no demand for shipping purposes The call for home consumption is limited and quotations are furnished at $1 40@1 45 per cwt

FEED—Prices seem but little inclined to change as yet, and it is thought that the high price of wheat will not effect the market, as it would certainly later in the season Quotations to-day are for bran $17 50 @$19 per ton shorts, $22 50, chopped, middlings, etc, $22@24, jobbing prices

HAY—The supply is not large for the season, but the temporary scarcity is accounted for by the fact that farmers are too busy to put their crops in market at present The supply in the country is very large

POTATOES—The market is fully supplied with choice lots at 37½@40 cents per bushel The yield this season is unusually large.

ONIONS—Some of the new crop has been contracted at 2½@3 cents per pound At present the supply is limited and the demand dull

APPLES—The new crop of early varieties is becoming quite plentiful in the market and quotable for good to choice at 62½@65 cents per box

BUTTER—There is considerable inquiry for choice quality while common lots are in full supply. The best for table use commands 25@28 cents per pound but the bulk of receipts is well sold at 15@20 cents

CHEESE—The supply of Oregon made is freely taken at 15@17 cents ₽ lb

EGGS—A scarcity is still noted as prevailing and the demand for fresh receipts is brisk at 30 cents ₽ dozen

BACON—The state of trade at this season is usually dull and our market presents no exception to the rule. However all offering is readily taken at current rates We give quotations for common lots sugar-cured and other established brands being higher, sides 10@11 hams 14@15 shoulders 8@9 cents ₽ lb

LARD—Oregon leaf in tins 12@13 cents ₽ lb in kegs 11 cents The supply is not above average and good lots find ready sale.

CHICKENS—The supply in market is very much limited and prices have ruled high for several days. Grown hens and roosters are quotable at $4 50@5 ₽ dozen, the latter for best lots only Spring chickens scarce also at $3@3 50.

BEEVES—Continued arrivals both from the valley and Eastern Oregon are noticed We quote good beef cattle on foot 3½@4 cents ₽ lb

MUTTON—Prices vary with size quotable at $2@$3 ₽ head.

DRESSED HOGS—The demand is dull at 6@7 cents ₽ lb

HIDES—The receipts are averaging less this week, and quotations so far are nominally for green 6@6½, green salted 7 and dry 14@15 cents ₽ lb

WOOL—The receipts have been small for some days, and prices are rather firmer We quote choice lots at 23@23½ cents ₽ lb common 20 cents.
